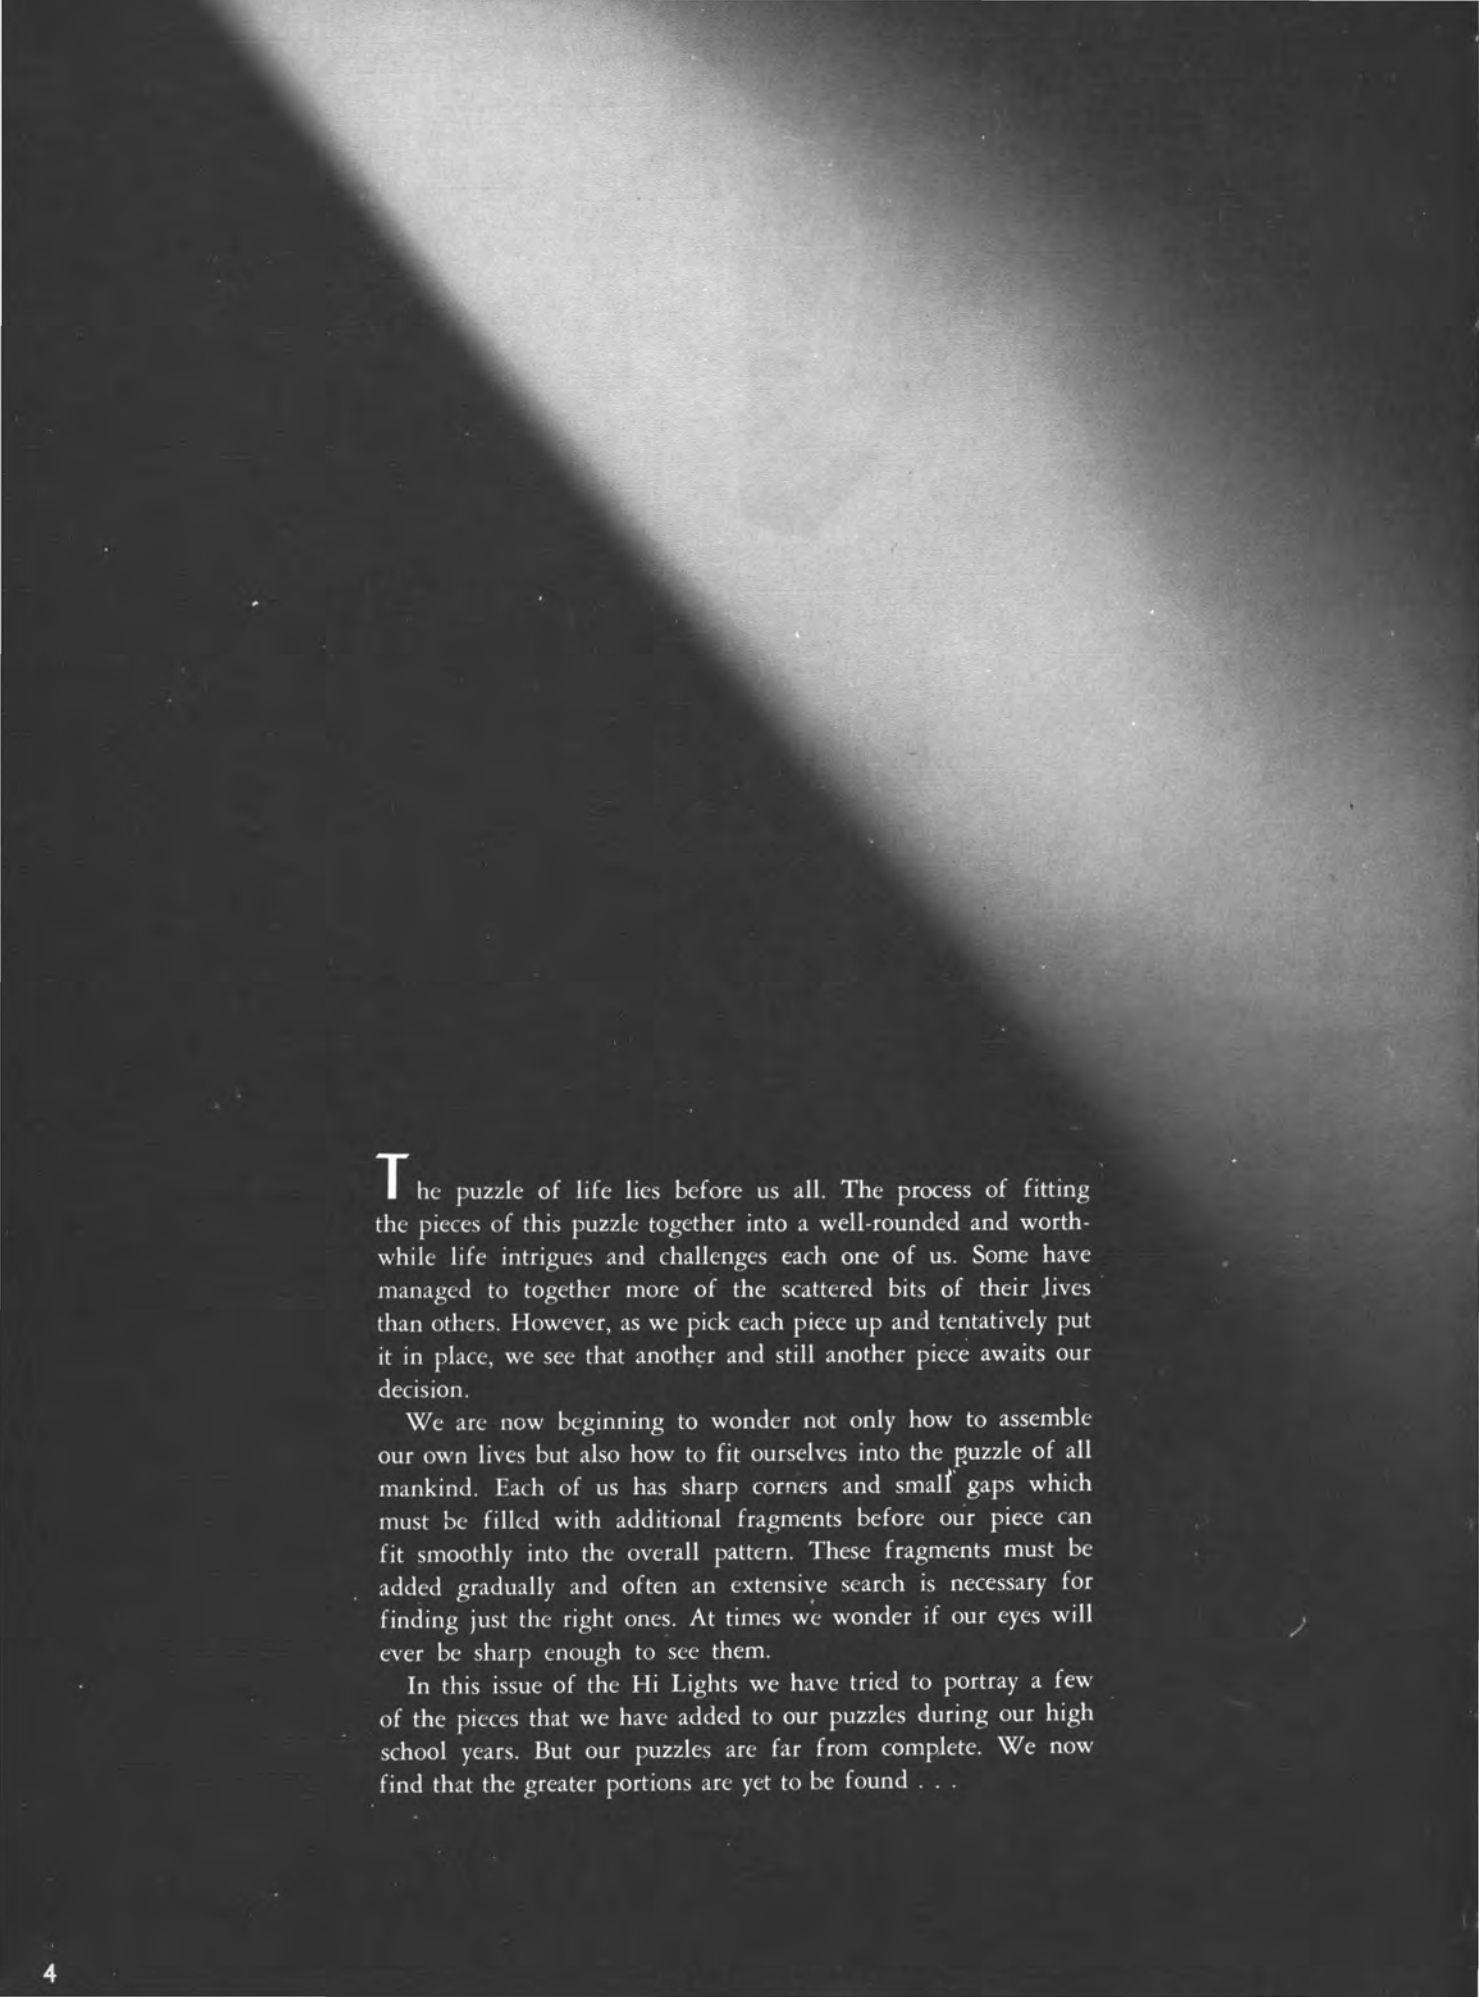
THE 1959 HI LIGHTS

PITTSFORD CENTRAL SCHOOL

PITTSFORD, NEW YORK



The puzzle of life lies before us all. The process of fitting the pieces of this puzzle together into a well-rounded and worthwhile life intrigues and challenges each one of us. Some have managed to together more of the scattered bits of their lives than others. However, as we pick each piece up and tentatively put it in place, we see that another and still another piece awaits our decision.

We are now beginning to wonder not only how to assemble our own lives but also how to fit ourselves into the puzzle of all mankind. Each of us has sharp corners and small gaps which must be filled with additional fragments before our piece can fit smoothly into the overall pattern. These fragments must be added gradually and often an extensive search is necessary for finding just the right ones. At times we wonder if our eyes will ever be sharp enough to see them.

In this issue of the Hi Lights we have tried to portray a few of the pieces that we have added to our puzzles during our high school years. But our puzzles are far from complete. We now find that the greater portions are yet to be found . . .

The Class of 1959 feels that Mr. Kenneth Kreiser is one of our teachers whom we will remember for aiding us a great deal in adding pieces to our puzzle. Almost all of us have struggel through at least one of Mr. Kreiser's history classes—our freshman Citizenship Education course, the intensive World History course, and especially his challenging Senior Civics course. But our picture of Mr. Kreiser is not limited to his lengthy history lectures and unbeatable exams. For three years Mr. Kreiser energetically filled his post as advisor to the Class of 1959 by chaperoning dances, supervising roller skating parties, transporting fish for our fish fry, and aiding in an unending parade of other activities. We are indeed grateful to Mr. Kreiser for undertaking the exhausting and often exasperating task of advisor for this Hi Lights. As a small thank-you, the Class of 1959 would like to dedicate this Hi Lights to Mr. Kenneth Kreiser.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Mr. Harry D. Lusk, Mr. Lyman E. Welch, Mr. Frederick W. Cummings, Mr. Edgar H. McLaughlin, Mr. Edward O. Rubel, Mrs. Wyatt B. Brummitt, (President), Mr. Morris W. Gaskin, (Clerk), Mr. N. Gorham Parks.

The work of our Board of Education increases with each year. Along with continuing responsibilities, the highlights of the past year were . . .

. . . presentation to the voters of propositions for the purchase of land and additional high school facilities with resulting approval.

. . . completion of the Jefferson Road Elementary School.

. . . study of curriculum surveys compiled by faculty, citizens' committe, and Middle States Association.

Again we thank the Board of Education for a job well done.

ADMINISTRATION AND FAC

Here are some of the people who are constantly helping us to put our puzzles together. From the apparently inexhaustible pile of pieces, they carefully guide us to choose the ones that fit into our own individual puzzles. Sometimes they illuminate portions of the puzzle which had been too dark for us to see. We are thankful that the remaining sections of the puzzle will be easier to finish because of the fundamental portions put together under the direction of these fine educators.

ULTY . . .

Dear Class of 1959:

In a few short weeks you will complete your high school education and move on to greater challenges in new surroundings We, at the school, are pleased to have played some small role in your preparation for future endeavor. It has been gratifying for us to watch your growth and development during these very important years.

Our American Society is undergoing a very careful self-scrutiny. More changes are forthcoming. The new America will be filled with opportunities for all hard-working, upright young men and women.

For many years we have heard a great deal about the need for "well-rounded" development. Unfortunately, this quality alone will not be enough. There is much to be said for some sharp angles in a person's growth—a few outstanding characteristics rather than mediocre performances in many activities. Work hard, develop your strongest attributes, and continue to let good Christian Standards of conduct guide you.

Congratulations and best wishees for success in all that you undertake. We pledge to you our continued interest and assistance. Come to visit us often.

Sincerely,
Supervising Principal

Herbert C. Bettinger

Dear Class of 1959:

In the four high school years that have passed so quickly, I have come to know many of you quite well through the varied facets of teaching, coaching, and administration. From this background I speak with surety about our pride in your achievements which have run the gamut of academic and extracurricular possibilities.

The Class of 1959 has shared a changing and growing curriculum along with concepts denoting renewed vigor in academics. A few have faltered; most have met the challenge adequately, and some have striven beyond expectations to excel despite added pressures. May I ask each of you to take the best of what you have done in high school and nurture the habits that brought it about.

Thank you for the many contributions to our school and community. We congratulate you upon graduation, and wish you success in all future endeavors.

Sincerely,
High School Principal

Arnold T. Carlson

SENIORS

These three Seniors are searching for the next piece in their puzzle. Will college fit into the waiting notch or would training in the Armed Forces be better? By now the Seniors are trying to foresee the pieces that will fit in a few years. What career will make up a large portion of the puzzle? These Seniors spend a great deal of their time wondering about the future but right now they are both deeply thankful and, at the same time, a little sad to see the latest piece, labeled "High School," locked firmly into its place in the puzzle.

HI LIGHTS STAFF

SEATED: Charles Pembroke, Barbara Cash, Julia King, Susan Bancroft. STANDING: James Parker, David Hartsig, Ted Aldrich, Mr. Kreiser, Frank DeSerio.

Shouts of "Where's the dummy, Mr. Kreiser?", "How many subscriptions have we sold, Jim?" and "Remember our deadline!" echoed through the halls as we frantically attempted to put out the best Hi Lights ever while our budget and deadlines governed us with an iron hand. It took a few Saturdays, a few tense moments, and a few trials and errors but none of us can forget the fun—and the work— of publishing our yearbook.

CLASS OF 1959

The Class of 1959 was fortunate to have had such wonderful class advisors. We couldn't have had a successful magazine campaign without the guidance of Mr. Prudom. And what would we have done without Miss Sullivan? Whenever anyone had a special difficulty, he knew that Miss Sullivan would be a patient listener and helpful advisor. The yearbook would have been non-existent if it hadn't been for Mr. Kreiser. We are thankful to the other advisors who have helped us through all our four years of high school.

Our officers have had a busy year managing the magazine subscriptions drive, making the Senior Ball a success, and planning our long awaited trip to Washington. The Washington trip became a goal for Seniors as they slaved over research papers, filled out college applications, and struggled with permutatims and combinations in Advanced Algebra. Indeed, our Senior year was one we shall never forget.

Mr. Kenneth Kreiser, Mr. Alan Prudom, Miss Hilda Sullivan.

TEEN-AGE DIPLOMATS

I'll always remember the summer I spent as an American Field Service exchange student to Denmark. It was the most wonderful experience to become the daughter of two Danish families. There were a few anxious moments as I tried to understand Danish, ride a bicycle for endless hours, or swallow an eel and scrambled egg sandwich! However, I will be eternally thankful for the friends I made and the understanding I gained of this country and its people while being a representative of my school, my community, and indeed, America. My summer is aptly expressed by the motto of the American Field Service, "Walk together, talk together, O ye peoples of the Earth. Then and only then shall ye have peace."

Sue Bancroft

We at Pittsford feel very fortunate to have had Raija Hartman with us for the past year. Raija came to us from Finland as an American Field Service Stu-dent and has been the daughter of the Edmund King family. Raija's tales of the beautiful Finnish lakes, the lovely midnight sun, and the invigorating "sauna," or Finnish bath, have made us all want to visit Finland as soon as possible. We hope Haija will remember with happiness her American year, for she has won a definite spot in all of our hearts.

CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1955, the reasonably stable halls of Pittsford High School shook with the impact of the largest freshman class in history. Many of us had gone to Pittsford for years and brought with us many memories of the Lincoln Avenue and Lomb Schools.

In the third grade, Jim Commisso spent most of his time sitting out on the fire escape at the Lomb School.

We graduated to the Lincoln Avenue School in fourth grade and Bev Mantle was sent to the Principal for wearing dark glasses in winter. Jim Parker began his traditional electionering for the Republicans and, in the class play, he expounded the shocking theory that Santa Claus was actually a silly fable based on insufficient evidence. Chuck Crumb was a smashing success as a clown falling head-first through a hoop.

When we moved into the new school in sixth grade, some of the girls formed an Anteaters Club to collect and study ants. The club disbanded when Alaine Matthies, the ant-keeper, let the ants out to eat Miss Howard's plants. Ted Aldrich demonstrated his artistic talents by constructing a medieval castle. Julie Raycheff and Susie Miller were in a quartet that sang "Over the Rainbow" at the Spring Concert. Mary Sgabellone led a group of girls masquerading as spooks to scare a bunch of bossy boys in the class play.

In Junior High, Irv Hallings and Dave Strong terrified the girls with their water pistols and Bob Farnam started a trend with hayrides. Sally Traub developed a liking for football and was expertly tutored. Hughie MacMillan started all the girls swooning with his dimples. Sandy Ruske and Marie Morabito formed a hot jazz band, called the Off-Beats, which really lived up to its name. Heidi Hursh played the double-octave comb and Julie King manipulated the wash-tub viola. Leaving Junior High, Greg Sulkey breathed a sigh of relief to say good-bye to Mrs. Windsor.

However, not all of us remember these things. Our class has grown considerably since we entered High School. Led by Jean Tucker, Ann Barr, and Judy Hughes in a rousing cheer for Allen Creek came Elaine Kendrick, Sue Bancroft, Ann Voorhees, Bill Pribus, Kirke Billington, Bill Ramsey, and Suzanne Shaw. For the officers of our Freshman class we elected Bob Mason president, Tim Dowling vice-president, and Sue Bancroft secretary-treasurer. Fran DuBois, Barb Morgan, and Marcia Seeber spent several snowy winter overnights out in Powdermill Park training for the Girl Scout Roundup and listening to "Shultzie Stories." Mr. Kreiser had to call in help from Mr. Morrison to explain to his inquisitive class where the Chinese people came from.

Then suddenly we were sophomores with Regents to face and oral reports to give for Mr. Carlson. When we recorded commercials, Diane Brownlee sold us on "Nasel Bathbone's Kinibbity Pins." Newcomer Diane Lapp was elected class treasurer and Pete Hamilton, Timmy Dowling, and Julie King completed the slate of officers. Phyllis McNellis, Cindy Bachman, and Bob Grinnell were also new additions to the class. Dave Hartsig and Norman Howe teamed up to provide hi-fi music for our dances. In the Girl Scout Variety Show, Lynne Patterson led everyone on a bear hunt dressed up in a large helmet and a long, trailing clothes.

Our Junior year was highlighted by the play, the fish-fry, and the class rings. Marty Riley was full of pep as Essie Sebastian in "The Great Sebastians." Fred Wallman ordered a king-sized class ring and soon gave it away. Charlie Pembroke encouraged Jeanie Wahl in her drinking habits by presenting her with a can of beer in the lunchroom. Judy VanGraafeiland arrived still chanting, "Rah, Rah, Franklin!" Barb Cash proved a very efficient snowmaker and got herself snowed in at Sandy Ruske's house with two other Eskimos. A certain article belonging to Monroe Country Club landed on the front porch of Sue Mentch's house the night of her slumber party. Harlow White became the traditional supply of records for parties and Don Guckian took on the job of chauffeur to the soccer games. Linda Shaw became our model of quite poise. Connie Baer was caught cheering for Honeoye Falls at a basketball game and struck up a friendship with one of our opponents. Carol Benelisha returned home at Easter very enthusiastic about her stay in California. Peter Hamilton and Henry Schmitt put Mrs. Ford's study hall in a state of panic with their sound-effect cannon record. During the summer while others slaved, John Traina loafed on a yacht owned by the U. S. Navy.

Finally our Senior year began and we were swept into a whirlwind of activities. New arrivals included Ronny Fazar, Neil Rose, and Gary Issacs. Connie Forbes took many scholastic honors by brainstorm. Lowell Fields quietly rounded out his excellent scholastic record. Jon Brizee buttonholed everyone he met into purchasing magazine subscriptions and sold $450 worth. Alan Heuer was chosen as class president while Dave Snyder served as vice-president and Judy Elliott got tangled with our high finances. Ken Hazen and Frank DeSerio turned Mr. Kreiser's and Mr. Prudom's hair gray with their long, involved problems. Pat May and Pat Stinson started cultivating their Brooklyn accents in preparation for selling the Brooklyn Bridge to Jim Grassmick and Malcomb Traub to use as a private drag strip.

The heavy snow we received was welcomed by Dick Coerse and Volney Mosher, members of the Ski Team. Jim Surdyke cut down a twenty-foot Christmas tree from Benjy Rubel's backyard for the Senior Ball and decorated it with the help of Gerry Schuth. Raija Hartman made a charming Queen and reigned, with Peter Hamilton as King, over the "Crystal Ball." Everyone, especially the telephone operators, enjoyed Pat Richardson's after-the-ball Pancake Breakfast in the wee small hours of the morning. Mike Casey was the only person on the clean-up committee that showed up the next day. After mid-terms, we all started counting the days until Washington. Tom MacDonald overslept and almost missed the bus. This trip provided a fitting climax to our four years together as the Class of 1959.

LAST WILL

We, the Class of 1959 of Pittsford Central School, being of relatively sound mind, do hereby proclaim our last will and testament.

TED ALDRICH wills his art ability to Peggy Czarnikow.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Solving puzzles can be fun. These underclassmen are obviously enjoying putting the pieces in their puzzle. One freshman, one sophomore, and one junior can find a lot to discuss in a small moment between classes. Right now they seem to be pieces of a puzzle themselves, working to fit in with others. They are not quite as concerned about the far away bits of their puzzle. Instead they are trying their best to secure that portion called High School and are just beginning to think of the day when they too will have to seriously consider the future pieces of their puzzle.

ACTIVITIES

These three must now make a decision as to which pieces they wish to incorporate in their puzzle. Should they pick News Club or French Club? Right now these students think of these activities as pretty small fragments for their puzzle. But, consciously or unconsciously, they know that these activities may help to smooth some of their own rough edges. What better place is there to learn how to make yourself fit in with others than in an extracurricular activity?

This year Student Council was very active in a wide range of projects. The funds that have been building up for several years were combined in the purchase of a new scoreboard for the gym. In March, an amendment creating a new office of Corresponding Secretary was passed by the student body as was a vote of support for a Conduct Code. In addition to all the regular activities carried on by the Council, a Talent Show was held in April that proved to be a great deal of fun for everyone. To finish off the year, Pittsford played host to the District 12 Association of Student Councils spring meeting. We all feel that we have been ably represented in our government this year.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society may well be proud of their record. Several Pittsford students have won honors in competitive scholarship examinations this year. Those winning New York State Regents Scholarships are: Theodore Aldrich, Susan Bancroft, Constance Forbes, David Hartsig, Kenneth Hazen, Heidi Hursh, and James Parker. Alternates for these scholarships are: Diane Brownlee, Francis DeSerio and Lowell Fields. From the nineteen members of our Honor Society, three are Semi-Finalists in the National Honor Society Scholarships. Heidi Hursh, James Parker, and Susan Bancroft won this honor. Finally we are proud to have three Certificate of Merit Winners in the National Merit Scholarship Examination: Susan Bancroft, James Parker, and Constance Forbes. Congratulations, winners!

MUSIC

Music is an important piece in everyone's puzzle whether it be rock and roll, classical, jazz or even singing commercials. Music can provide the peaceful, calming segment that is necessary to balance the exhausting intensity that often exists in our daily work. The busy day of many a Pittsford student includes the fun and education of playing a rhythmic overture in the band or singing harmonic chords in the chorale.

Our Senior Band took a big step this year in initiating a program of international exchange. The pictures on these pages aptly illustrate the Band's memorable trip to the Thomas L. Kennedy Secondary School in Cooksville, Ontario, Canada.

The Band left at 7 a.m. on February 6. After a fun-packed bus ride, they arrived in time to present an assembly program for the students of the host school. A lovely reception was held and each Band member was assigned to a host family. The rest of the weekend was filled with all sorts of get-acquainted activities. There was a delicious banquet, an old-fashioned hayride, and several parties. Many Pittsfordians also investigated the stores and sights of near-by Toronto.

Mr. Paul Green, director of the host band, extends a welcome to Mr. Anzalone.

The highlight of the Canadian trip was a concert by the combined bands of both schools under the direction of Professor A. Rosevear.

The thing that impressed the members of our Band most was the marvelous hospitality and enthusiasm offered by our Canadian friends. We all hope that this may prove to be a start for further exchange programs in the future.

ATHLETICS

Athletics is a puzzle piece that no one should lack. Here Coach Miller talks to two Seniors who were found to be very "Physically Fit." They have indeed included an athletics section in their puzzle. Some students add this piece by participating very actively as a member of a Pittsford team or in various intramural programs. Others accomplished this in a more restful manner—as a whole-hearted supporter of the teams. Actually this portion of the puzzle does not just include the physical exercise but the sportsmanship and fun that are part of athletics.

ADVERTISERS

Advertisers can contribute a piece to a puzzle also. They are a definite portion in the puzzle of the 1959 Hi Lights and the staff is most appreciative of their aid. Without the merchants of Pittsford and neighboring areas, the staff would have had an impossible task to stay within the established budget. We are all proud of the stores and the people who staff them in and around our town of Pittsford.
